A BILL

To amend the Communications Act of 1934 to require the Federal Communications Commission to ensure just and reasonable charges for telephone and advanced communications services in correctional and detention facilities.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

1 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

2 This Act may be cited as the “Martha Wright Reed
3 Just and Reasonable Communications Act of 2021”.

4 SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

5 Congress finds the following:

6 (1) Prison, jails, and detention centers in the 7 United States have unique telecommunications needs
8 due to safety and security concerns.

9 (2) Unjust and unreasonable charges negatively 10 impact the safety and security of communities in the 11 United States by exacerbating recidivism by dam-12 aging relationships between incarcerated people and 13 their support systems.

14 (3) It is the policy of the United States to en-
15 sure that all people in the United States, including 16 anyone who pays for communications with incorcera-
17 ted people via telephone and advanced communica-
18 tions, are afforded just and reasonable charges for 19 all communications services.

20 (4) The current correctional facilities commu-
21 nications market suffers from market failure. Among 22 other issues, consumers cannot choose among com-
23 peting providers, which produces locational monopo-
24 lies and monopoly profits at the expense of rate-pay-
25 ers.

1 (5) Charges for communicating with individuals
2 detained in prisons, jails, and detention centers have 3 been shown to be unjust and unreasonable as a re-
4 sult of industry practices and lack of competition.

5 (6) Unjust and unreasonable charges extend to 6 telephone and advanced communications services
7 and to both intrastate and interstate communica-
8 tions.

9 (7) Mrs. Martha Wright Reed of Washington,
10 DC, led a campaign for just calling rates for incar-
11 cerated people for over a decade. Mrs. Wright-Reed 12 was the lead plaintiff in Wright v. Corrections Cor-
13 poration of America, CA No. 00-293 (GK) (D.D.C.
14 2001), which ultimately led to the Wright Petition
15 at the Federal Communications Commission, EC
16 Docket No. 96-128 (Nov. 3, 2003). Mrs. Wright-17 Reed became involved, when, as a grandmother, she 18 was forced to choose between purchasing medication
19 and communicating with her incarcerated grandson.
20 Mrs. Wright-Reed passed away on January 18, 2015
21 before fully realizing her dream of just communica-
22 tions rates for all people.

23 (8) After the Federal Communications Commis-
24 sion granted the petition Wright Petition described
25 in paragraph (7), the United States Court of Ap-

1 peals for the District of Columbia Circuit reversed
2 the Federal Communications Commission by inter-
3 preting section 276 of the Communications Act of 4 1934 (47 U.S.C. 276) in the case of Global
5 Tel*Link v. Federal Communications Commission,
6 866 F.3d 397 (D.C. Cir. 2017), in part by con-
7 stricting the meaning of the word “fair” and lim-
8 iting the means by which the Federal Communi-
9 cations Commission can calculate fair, just, and rea-
10 sonable charges.
